

Coming Soon to LIVEDGAR

The following new features will be available in LIVEDGAR in the coming months.

Roundup Reports on Counsels, Accountants and Underwriters

In the next month, GSI will take the concept of its Company Roundup and will provide similar Roundup Reports on the activities of counsels, accountants and underwriters.

LIVEDGAR's new Roundup Reports will offer users convenient check box lists of available topics that can be used to create professionally formatted reports on Counsels, Accountants and Underwriter-Advisors involved with registrations and prospectuses, as well as mergers and acquisitions.

The new Roundup reporting capabilities will give you greater control over the types of information included in the report and the way it is presented. Radio buttons will offer users the option to provide a summary or detailed view of the topic. You will also be able to use the drop-down lists to select the time period you want the report to cover, going back as far as five years.

Additionally, under the League Table heading, users will be able to create ranking reports of the top 25, 50 or 100 parties

(Counsel, Accountant or Underwriter-Advisor) involved in a Merger, IPO, Debt or Equity Offering transaction for a given time period.

Financial Data Search

LIVEDGAR's new Financial Data Search feature will enable users to quickly and easily identify filings by common financial data elements such as Market Capitalization, Annual Revenue, Annual Net Income and S&P 500. These common financial data elements will be found in a drop-down menu and will be available as additional search criteria within LIVEDGAR's most popular databases including SEC Staff Reviews, Global Search (including Power Search), 10-K Section, Proxy Section, SEDAR, Annual Reports and No-Action Letters.

Just to name a few examples, the new Financial Data Search feature will enable you to run precedent research on S&P 500 companies use of revenue recognition, screen filings of the largest companies by revenue or market capitalization, or identify all of the 10-Ks of the S&P 500. The additional functionality in LIVEDGAR will give users the ability to further customize a more straightforward search to quickly identify filings using financial ranges.

GSI Enhances Company Roundup Reporting Functionality

LIVEDGAR's Company Roundup is so popular because it provides an excellent way to quickly gather corporate intelligence on any public company and to compile the information into a professionally formatted report.

The new enhancements to the Company Roundup are designed to provide a more organized format that allows you to quickly and easily identify the information needed. GSI has broadened the scope of information by adding two new categories that include Directors and Executive Officers and News. In addition, several items such as Management's Discussion and Analysis, Market for Registrants Common Equity, SEC Staff Review and Section 16(a) Reporting Compliance are now available as check box options.

LIVEDGAR's Company Roundup is still accessible from the Main Menu. After entering the company name or ticker, LIVEDGAR offers 30 check box options that users can easily select from to create a highly customized report on any public company. These options are logically organized under six major information headings to simplify the selection process and include Company Overview, Directors and Executive Officers, Corporate Transactions, Compliance, Financials and News.

Several headings provide radio buttons to let users choose whether to provide a summary or detailed view of the topic. Drop-down lists allow you to select the time period to cover with the ability to go back as far as five years. Grayed out selections indicate that information related to that option is not available for the selected company.

For any Company Roundup, you can view, e-mail, print or save the gathered information.
